AGENCY MILITARY RESERVISTS

1. OP/SPD/MPB manages the in-house program for Agency employees who are active military reservists. This includes the administration of an Army, a Navy, an Air Force and a Marine Corps reserve unit and administration of the Agency employees assigned to these units. These are dedicated units for the assignment of Agency military reservists. All assignments are voluntary and both OVERT and COVERT 25X1 employees have been accommodated by assignments to these reserve units.

2. The existence and identity of the dedicated CIA reserve units is known within the military community and the identity of the reservists in these units cannot be totally protected. The assignment of both OVERT and COVERT personnel to these dedicated CIA units has given rise to cover/security problems. Thus Agency employees in a COVERT status will no longer be permitted to join CIA administered military reserve units. COVERT employees now in these CIA dedicated units will be reviewed by CCS (on a case-by-case basis) to determine their internal reserve status. the status of OVERT employees now in these dedicated military reserve units will be then asked to transfer reviewed to determine dropped from these units if they enter a COVERT status. their reserve status -

3. To ensure establishment of proper administration, all Agency military reservists, OVERT and COVERT, now affiliated with the CIA dedicated units and those affiliated with outside
